Twitter

Twitter, a popular online social networking and micro-blogging service, lets you send and read textbased messages called Tweets. These messages are posted to a person's Twitter feed, sent to their followers, and are found on Twitter by searching.

Twitter also has a suite of advertising products to help brands and businesses promote their content within the Twitter experience. Businesses can use Tweets to reach Twitter users while they search for their interests on Twitter.

Note: You cannot attach files or pictures in your comments.

When a new inbound Twitter interaction is sent to your workstation, a preview of the interaction is displayed in the bottom right-hand corner of your desktop.

If you accept, the inbound Twitter interaction view is displayed and the original-routed Tweet appears in the left margin under the Twitter interaction toolbar.

Select Reply, or select the down arrow after Reply.

Your message is displayed to the contact on Twitter. Your message is also added to the transcript area of the Twitter interaction view.

To view your Twitter contact's profile information, select the Show Info icon or click the username to open the Twitter page that contains the user's profile information.

Some of the things you can do while handling a Twitter interaction include:

- Transfer the interaction to someone else in your company.
- Start a chat conference with yourself, the customer, and someone else in your company.
- Start a voice (internal targets and contacts) or chat (an internal target only) consultation. If you want to perform a warm transfer or a two-step transfer, click Consult to talk to the consultation target and then click Transfer to transfer the call.
- Call or email the contact, if there is a phone number or email address in the contact database. (You can also launch a call or email from the chat transcript area by clicking an email address or phone number.)
- Respond with another media channel, such as voice or email.
- Reply with a Standard Response.
- Add a disposition code or note.
- End the interaction and mark it as done.
