Learning Items

Each base data definition can be linked to multiple Learning Items.

The number in the Learning Items column represents the count of learning items associated with the base data definition. Clicking on the number opens the Edit Learning Item screen.

Clicking Add will add a learning item.

You can add as many as you like. Auto Priority is reserved for a future feature. Manual priority is the order that you would like the learning items to be assigned. Min and max are the range used to determine When the learning item will be assigned. So, in the example above, if you score between 80 and 100 in Assessment 1 then the learning item will be assigned.
